ENDLESS POSSIBILITIES

Group Camping Information Guide
YMCA CAMP CAMPBELL GARD
YMCA Camp Campbell Gard was founded in 1926 by Homer Gard as a living memorial to his son Charles Campbell Gard. During dedication, Homer said “In giving this memorial camp, we ask that it always be available for boys and girls of any race, color or religion.” Robert McCloskey carved the totem pole that for years has been the camp symbol. The third totem from the top is turned around facing the opposite direction of the others. McCloskey did this out of respect to the Native American burial grounds on the other side of the river. Today camp operates 12 months a year with a capacity of 300 beds, serving over 20,000 individuals a year. We are proud to continue the legacy that was begun by Homer Gard 87 years ago!

YMCA Camp Campbell Gard is a great place for your organization, church, school, business or family to spend time enjoying the outdoors and coming together as a group. The possibilities are endless at camp and we welcome all groups. Facilities are easily accessible by paved roads making camp a great place for all ages and needs. Low Ropes

Contrary to its name, this activity uses ropes minimally. “Low Ropes” refers to a series of activities completed on the ground or close to the ground. The goal of each of these activities is to promote teamwork and communication within a small group of 10–15 people. After completing an activity, the group’s facilitator leads a brief discussion about the activity and about the group’s dynamics during that activity. The purpose is to better understand those things which are propelling the group to a better working relationship as well as those things that might be holding the group back.

High Ropes

Our high ropes course begins with a safety orientation and training on how the equipment is to be used. Participants are required to wear a helmet and harness. If the full course is in use, participants will also wear sling lines which serve as the safety system while traversing different elements in the air. Some of the elements include walking across a plank bridge, walking across a single cable and walking across a log all while 35 feet in the air. To get down from the platform, participants will choose the zipline or swing.

YMCA Camp Campbell Gard works on a strict challenge by choice philosophy which means that no person will be forced to do something they do not want to do. The goal of the high ropes course is for the participant to challenge themselves and to work as a group to encourage one another and help keep each other safe. The zipline and swing can be done without doing the entire high ropes course. These activities are geared towards older participants but still great for sports teams, middle school and high school students, college students, and corporate groups.
Power Pole
The power pole is an element that stands separate from the course. Participants are challenged to climb up a pole, stand on top of the pole and jump off in an attempt to hit a wind chime suspended in the air. The goal of the power pole is to challenge the individual participant to overcome their fears and for the group as a whole to work together and grow. This activity calls for group participation and individuals to have a job of ladder crew, belayer or encourager.

Indoor Climbing wall
This activity is housed inside of our Berriage Barn. With 6 different lines of varying height, campers are challenged to try and reach the top on our wall. This activity is great for all ages as it challenges the participant to push past their mental and physical barriers.

Challenge Courses are the most popular and powerful ways to promote personal growth and explore group interaction. Each of our challenge course programs can be used individually or together to create an experience that accomplishes the goals of your group. All of our camp staff are trained to safely and effectively run programs. Contact a program staff member to learn how these programs can be catered to your group’s needs!
